LAST night at the Grand the "After Dark" company had a large audience. The very English melody-drama was fairly well presented, but the features of the piece were the sketch by McIntyre & Heath, negro characters, and the boy dancer. The Stewart sisters were out of sight as to ends and shape. No good singers.

TALK was great interest at the church of God again last night. A number of newcomers and many under conviction. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity and all listened to a very appropriate discourse by the evangelist, from the words "To-day shall thou be with me in Paradise." His subject tonight will be "Sinners." General expression meeting for all distances at 7 o'clock.

TEN meetings at the Baptist church are despatching in interest. Dr. Kennard was greeted by an audience last night that completely filled the chapel of the church. The service was full of helpful suggestions as to the source and right use of power in the conversation of men.

The meetings will continue throughout next week, opening each evening except Saturday, promptly at 7:30 with a prayer service of 20 minutes.

THE verdict of the ladies is generally correct. They pronounce, in hundreds the extravagant claims of the many exhibitors of the "Penny" class to be true, to say the least. The fact is we show more styles in cups and saucers and so many more, taken as a total, that it is no easy for the people to judge for themselves who "prevaricate," that we urge you to come and see the immense line we are offering at our special cup and saucer sale. When it comes to FINE GOODS, the crockery and toy store (who must improve you with the quality of their stock without showing it) are no longer leaders, and the people have found it out, as has been proven by our plate sale, our pitcher sale, and lastly by our cup and saucer sale. We propose to further establish that fact in the "special sale" we will put on in February.

$5,000 DAMAGES WANTED. The "Review" Sued for Alleged Libelous Statement.

In the circuit court to-day Attorney W. E. Deane filed an order for the issue of a subpoena against the Review Publishing company, of Decatur, the plaintiffs in the action being William Sane and Luther Sane, of Latham, Logan county. They place their damages at $5,000. The suit grows out of an alleged libelous statement damaging to the firm of Sane & Sane, printed in the Daily Review on January 20th, and subsequently in the Weekly Review. At the time of the publication of the libelous article the plaintiffs were the proprietors of a restaurant at Latham. It has been conducted by Sane for over a year, except for about two months, when Sane had an interest in the business. The article was headed "Banking on their Check," and it stated that Sane & Sane were "banking on their check," and that they were "banking on their check," and that they were "banking on their check," and that they were "banking on their check," and that

The earliest known advertisement was contained in a newspaper entitled, "Perfect Occurrences of every Day &c," and printed in 1647. It was an advertisement of a book called, "The Divine Right of Church Government." ## MOTHER AND DAUGHTER AGREE.

Final Settlement of the Nicholson—Bishop Law Suit.

Through the management of counsel and friends in the case, the action of Mrs. Will H. Nicholson against her mother, Mrs. Doccia Bishop, commenced in the circuit court, demanding a showing of accounts as to her guardianship in reference to certain lands and personal property, obtained by the plaintiff, the expected trial in court has been avoided. The principals in the case last evening effected a final settlement. There will be no trial. This agreement was duly signed in the presence of witnesses by Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Nicholson.

"It is agreed on the part of the defendant that she will convey to the complainant by warranty deed, 47.72 acres of land being a portion of the land in controversy and described as follows: Commencing at the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of 19, 19, 7 east, thence north along the half section line of mid section 19 a distance of 95 rods, thence east to the east line of the west half of the southeast quarter section, thence south along the said east line of said southeast quarter section to the south line of same, and thence west to place of beginning.

Secondly, the defendant agrees to convey by warranty deed to the complainant, a certain note for $3,300 executed by one B. F. Cress and being the balance of a consideration received for the sale of certain lands as follows: The west half of the northwest quarter of 30, 19, 7 east in Champagne county and fully described in bill of complaint.

Fourthly, the complainant agrees to pay to the defendant $500 in cash and release and discharge forever the defendant from paying or any liability to pay the said note of $3,377.48 mentioned in bill of complaint and also any claim complainant may have for rent or arising in any way from the care, custody and management of complainant's property, either during her minority or after she becomes of age, and also any other claims said defendant. This agreement is to be taken as a final and complete settlement.

The counsel for Mrs. Nicholson were M. H. Bros. & Mills, and I. D. Walker and W. E. Lodge appeared for Mrs. Bishop. J. H. Corbin and E. H. Jeffers were friends who were instrumental in causing mother and daughter to reach an agreement. Mr. Walker states, however, that he knew nothing of the settlement until to-day. But he is glad that the case is settled.

THE DOOM OF THE BLACK SUIT.

Larger Latitude to be Allowed in the Matter of Dress.

The Clothier and Furnisher for January announces a revolution in the dress coat among the well-to-do. The stately and staid black is being discarded and a dark gray is taking its place. Many orders have recently been placed in New York for suits of the same material, but there is much difficulty in getting the goods from England. However, one New York tailor has succeeded in getting a sample from which it is quite likely that our manufacturers will soon succeed in producing a satisfactory imitation. We think that the change will be hailed as a real reform, even among those sturdy Americans who object to everything that is "English, you know." Fashion has rigidly bound gentlemen to black, while ladies are permitted to indulge in all the colors of the rainbow.

That black is disliked and only endured under the arbitrament of fashion is evident from the fact that no gentleman accepts it for a business or undress suit. Dark gray will answer for the beginning of the reform. There will quickly be innovations upon it according to taste. Lighter grays will follow, and then browns, blues, and all other colors, shades and tints. Our forefathers were gorged in dress, with their fancy waistcoats, knee breeches, ruffled shirts, powdered wigs, etc., and the old and discarded fashions, too costly for the Jeffersonian simplicity of the young republic, may yet return with the increase of wealth. True democracy in dress will permit a larger latitude than is prevalent at this date. The fashion that binds men unchangeably to black is a disagreeable tyrant with a taste shockingly bad.

Not a Lawyer.

The other day the Springfield Journal printed a paragraph stating in effect that Commissioner Durfee is a Frenchman. Now read this from the Tuscola Review, the Democratic organ of Douglas county:

B. K. Durfee, a well-known Decatur lawyer, who has frequently practiced in the courts of this county, has been appointed commissioner of the 10th precinct. Mr. Durfee is a sound business man, and the governor has made a good selection.

It is quite evident that Mr. Durfee's activity and profession are unknown to his friends on both sides of the political fence. He is not a lawyer, but he is a good business man.

Funeral Services.

The last sad rites over the remains of the late Lucinda Nightengale were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Dr. W. M. Catto on West William street. Rev. C. E. Turvey, of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. M. M. Goodwin, of St. John's Episcopal church, conducted the services, which were largely attended. The remains were interred at Greenwood. The pallbearers were Messrs. L. Barrows, E. O. McReynolds, W. L. Dumont, J. S. Childs, J. M. Ciokey and Judge W. E. Nelson.

Paralyzed.

W. H. Cave of the real estate firm of Pritchett & Walmaley received bad news this morning from his father, J. A. Cave. It was a telegram to the effect that his brother, C. E. Cave, who has been dangerously ill for some weeks at Barry, in Sangamon county, had been paralyzed. This morning Mr. Cave left for Barry to visit his afflicted brother.

Baby Bliss Again Demented.

Leonard Bliss, familiarly known as "Baby" Bliss, was taken in charge by Sheriff Bishop this morning and confined in the county jail on account of his recent development of insanity. An inquisition will probably be held in a few days. It will be remembered that Baby Bliss was confined in the asylum once before but was later released.—Bloomington Leader.

CLARKE $10 IN CASH.

Deatur Boys will be a Factor at the World's Fair.

The evening of January 23, 1893, Willie Starr, son of W. H. Starr, and Nonnie Starr, son of A. T. Starr, conceived the idea of organizing a Boys' Anti-Tobacco and Whisky club among the boys in the city, and on the evening of January 27th they held their first meeting at the residence of A. T. Starr, and originated with the following officers: Willie Starr, president; Nonnie Starr, secretary; Fred Parry, treasurer. On the first meeting night there were twelve boys present. They saw that there was need of some one older than they were to aid in the work. They elected the following officers: Mrs. A. T. Starr superintendent; Mrs. W. H. Starr and Mrs. A. H. Mills, as directors to take charge of the club, which they have done up to the present time. On last evening they celebrated their first anniversary at the residence of W. H. Starr, with the following program:

Instrumental Selection—Miss Marion Kelley. Song and Dance—Lillian Kelley. Kindergarten Song—Ada Starr. Solo Reading—Miss Lillian Kelley. Vocal Selection—Miss Marion Kelley. "Singing the Pledge"—Six Boys of the Club. Recitation—"Little Rowan"—Pitt Collins. Irish and Negro Comedy—H. Stafford and W. Starr. Ding, Dong, Bell—Little Polka.

The club gave their entertainment for the purpose of raising money to have their minutes printed for distribution at the World's Fair, and they netted about $10. The boys wish to extend their thanks for the liberal patronage. The pamphlets will be placed in the Temperance building during the World's Fair.

AMUSEMENTS NEXT WEEK.

LEWIS MORRISON—"FAUST."
At the Grand opera house Monday evening, Jan. 30th Mr. Lewis Morrison and his excellent company will present Bayle Bonnard's version of Goethe's immortal masterpiece, "Faust." The drama, as given by Mr. Morrison, is very different from the "Faust" of years ago, both in dialogue and staging. In the latter Mr. Morrison's production is decidedly spectacular, and presents some of the most artistic and dazzling scenes ever seen on any stage. The effect is naturally added to, in the Broken scene, for instance, by the admirable electric light plant, which is carried by the company.

THE PLANTER'S WIFE.

Thursday evening Feb. 2nd, the well known actor Mr. Harry Lacy, supported by the excellent actress Miss Emily Rigi and a first class company will appear at the Grand in "The Planter's Wife," the play was given here some years ago and is a fine one, and in the hands of the above named artists a splendid performance is assured.

A Girl's Apparition in the Mountains.

Creed Haymond, a prominent lawyer of San Francisco, died in that city a few days ago. The Examiner relates this incident in his life:

For a year and a half after arriving in California, in 1882, he carried the Wells, Fargo & Co.'s mail on the mountains. Brave and impetuous, he feared nothing, it is said, and only on one occasion was he ever frightened. It was bold highwayman, either, that made him turn back. He was alone, and a slender, delicate, and in the form of a young and pretty girl all clad in white, it ran across the old Sierra county road on which he was riding. His horse stopped and shook with fright, and weak and sick with fear himself, the cold perspiration stood out on his brow, bitter cold though that December night was. He always believed that what he saw was a ghost, and the never forgot the sensations he felt on seeing it. He never pretended to explain it.

February Weather.

Rev. Irl Hicks, the weather prophet, makes the following predictions for the month of February:

Secondary disturbances existing at the opening of the month, and in cold 1st and 2d. Warner about the 5th, with rain and snow to 7th. A cold wave will follow, extending southward and lasting to about 11th and 12th. After storms about those dates, colder up to about 17th. Storms of rain, thunder, sleet and snow from 16th to 19th. A severe cold wave will come behind these storms. Secondary temperature and storms will touch the 22d and 24th, followed by returning cold, until the last day of the month, at which time rising temperature and coming storms will be the order. Don't forget or neglect the poor dumb creatures that depend upon you for food and shelter. Their suffering will be your loss.

New Officers.

Faithful Lodge, I. O. G. T., elected officers last night. They were: Chief Templar—Fannie Reveal. Vice Templar—Leona Shanksland. Secretary—Ora Crane. Financial Secretary—Matthew Kirkwood. Treasurer—Beret Baker. Ward—Arthur E. Mills. Guard—Citra Vaughn. Sentinel—Henry Darney.

The visitors from other lodges were

Estella Jacobs of Decatur lodge, Wm. E. Snyder and R. R. Brubaker of La Place.

Small-Pox in Nokomis.

Dr. F. W. Reilly, Secretary of the State Board of Health, investigated an alleged case of small-pox at Nokomis Thursday, and pronounced it genuine. Precautions have been taken to prevent the spread of the disease; but quite a number have already been exposed to it. It is supposed to have originated from contact with a family of emigrants coming from Germany on the steamship State, who landed in New York in December.

A Recess Taken.

Judge Vail adjourned the circuit court last evening until Monday. The damage case of O. Kreidler vs. the Wabash railroad company is still pending. It will be finished Monday or Tuesday.

JAMES SMITH, JR., the Democratic

senator-elect from New Jersey, will not be the first Smith in the United States senate. Daniel Smith, Tennessee; Israel Smith, Vermont; John Smith, Ohio; John Smith, New York; Nathan Smith, Truman Smith and Perry Smith, all from Connecticut—there are a few of the Smiths.

Success in everything depends largely upon good health. De Witt's Little Early Risers are the best health-producing pills. See the print? Then take an "Early Riser." W. F. Neale.

The C. E. meeting of the Congregational church will be held at Brown's Business College, corner Main and Wilcox streets, at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Entrance from North Main street. No music. This is the regular consecration service and will be led by H. C. Schaub.

LAST night at the Grand the "After Dark" company had a large audience. The very English melodrama was fairly well presented, but the features of the piece were the sketch by Maflyre & Hault, negro character, and the humor. The Stewart sisters were out of sight as to size and shape. No good as singers.

There was great interest at the Church of God again last night. A number of conversions and many under conviction. The house was crowded to its utmost capacity and all listened to a very appropriate discourse by the evangelist, from the words "To-day shall thou be with me in Paradise." His subject tonight will be "Shoes." General experience meeting for all Christians at 7 o'clock.

This meeting at the Baptist church is despoiling in interest. Dr. Kennard was greeted by an audience last night that completely filled the church.

His sermon was full of helpful suggestions as to the source and right use of power in the conversation of men.

The Dr. will preach morning and evening to-morrow, and both services will be devoted to evangelism in character.

The platform has been enlarged to accommodate a large chorus choir. The meetings will continue throughout next week, opening each evening except Saturday, promptly at 7:30 with a praise service of 20 minutes.

20-minutes

The verdict of the ladies is generally correct. They pronounce, in hundreds of the extravagant claims of the various ladies' shoe makers, that they are wild, to say the least. The fact is we show more styles in caps and shoes and so many more, taken as a total, that it is so many for the people to judge for themselves who "prevaricates," that we urge you to come and see the immense line we are offering at our special cut and lower sale. When it comes to FINE GOODS, the crockery and toy store (who would impress you with the immensity of their stock without showing it) are no longer headquarters, and the people have found it out, as has been proven by our plate and pitcher sale, and lastly by our cup and saucer sale. We propose to further establish that fact in the "special sale" we will put on in February.

Lewis Morrison—"Mephisto."

Lewis Morrison will appear at the Grand Monday evening, Jan. 30, with his novel, highly effective and superb production of Faust. Long and costly experiments for producing a flash of lightning in miniature have at last proved successful. The mimic electric discharges from murky clouds add considerably to the wild publicity of the tumultuous scenes on the summit of the Brocken. Aside from the electric staging of Faust, the drama is rendered in the highest degree interesting by Mr. Morrison's graphic representation of "Mephisto." A musical novelty has been perfected for heightening the effect of the stage scene. A chorus of rich-toned bells ring out full and clear while the worshippers assemble. As the lingering echoes of the bells die softly away, the voices of singers announce the opening of the service within the sacred edifice. Appropriate orchestral music forms a fitting accompaniment to several of the scenes. The musical selections given with the action of the piece comprise songs from Gounod's score of Faust and selections from the composition of Schumann, Meyerbeer and other great composers.

$5,000 DAMAGES WANTED.

The "Review" Sued for Alleged Libelous Statement.

In the circuit court to-day Attorney W. E. Redman filed an order for the issue of a summons against the Review Publishing company, of Decatur, the plaintiffs in the action being William Saale and Luther Scallies, of Latham, Logan county. They place their damages at $5,000. The suit grows out of an alleged libelous statement damaging to the firm of Saale & Scallies, printed in the Daily Review on January 20th, and subsequently in the Weekly Review. At the time of the publication of the libelous article the plaintiffs were the proprietors of a restaurant at Latham. It has been conducted by Saale for over a year, except for about two months, when Scallies had an interest in the business. The article was headed "Banking on their Check," and it stated that Saale & Scallies' creditors were clamorous; that the firm was doing business on credit, and closing with this sentence: "If their stock of cash is equalled by the amount of gall they possess the Rothschilds would be double-discounted." The plaintiffs allege that they were in no way financially embarrassed and had no judgments against them. They paid all of their bills in full. The Review article caused a run on the firm's little bank which was partly paid. The day the article was printed collectors came from Ehrhart & Co., another from Warrensburg, and two from other points. All were paid. The other day the firm sold the restaurant business. Mr. Saale is at it in Latham engaged in a different occupation. Mr. Scallies has resumed his work as a carpenter. Attorney Redman, who formerly resided at Latham, states that the Review people were asked to correct the injurious statement, but that they refused to do so. Unless a compromise is effected the case will go before a jury for adjustment as to the amount of damages, if any, Saale & Scallies shall receive.

LOCATED HIS LAND.

Ald. W. H. Bramble Has Big Money in Iowa Land—He Has the Deed.

Ald. W. H. Bramble, who has just returned from a business trip to Iowa, relates some interesting incidents of his trip through the state. The principal object of the trip was to look up valuable farming land in Monona county and Mills county, for which he holds the deeds. He bought the land in question forty years ago when he lived in Cincinnati, paying $1.25 per acre. He bought 80 acres near Mr. Mary's, which was then the town of Mills county. He sold 40 acres at the time to get back to Cincinnati. He left 40 acres in his name, bringing away the deed. Since that time the new town and county seat of Glenwood has grown up, and many costly dwellings have been erected on the Bramble forty acres, the owners holding only the deeds. Mr. Bramble introduced himself to a butcher who has a fine building on his old property. The butcher saw the deed in Bramble's name. He nearly took a fit when he saw the deed and realized that there was litigation close at hand. The value of the Glenwood forty can not be estimated. Mr. Bramble will doubtless get a big sum out of the property. He has employed a lawyer at Glenwood to look after his interests.

10-clocks

Mr. Bramble also visited Monona county, Ia., where he has a well cultivated farm of 160 acres not far from Osawa, the county seat, and now worth $50 an acre. When the land was entered it adjoined the old town of Ashley, where Mr. Bramble had four lots which a banker has enclosed in his premises. He is willing to settle and so is Bramble. The company of the 160 acre farm was seen. He was left in a nervous state, nervous because of the little to be made out of the land. He is now in a settlement agency in fact.

The Nicholson-Bishop Case.

On the third page of this issue is given the full text of the agreement in the settlement of the case of Mrs. W. H. Nicholson against her mother, Mrs. Donna Bishop. The suit was closed in a manner that is entirely satisfactory to both parties. There were concessions on both sides, and now it is thought that the actual and other relations between mother and daughter will soon be re-established.

I. T. Withrow in Decatur Looking for His Wife and Money.

Every city has its troubles, and so does every man. Grief comes in different forms. This time I. T. Withrow, of the firm of Withrow & Barber, livery firm at Springfield, is the man who is worried about a little affair affecting his bank account and his domestic happiness. But he doesn't care anything about his runaway wife. He is after the $800 she took away when she left the state capital Thursday night with her lover, Dennis Wickard, a Wabash brakeman who for a time was a patient at the hospital. Mrs. Withrow is a handsome blonde, 38 years of age. She and Wickard fled together, and it is supposed that they came to Decatur. Mr. Withrow was around with a state warrant for the arrest of the couple for a charge of larceny as thieves. Captain Bailey had the warrant last night, and all of the policemen were on the watch for the couple. When the audience left the Grand last night after the "After Dark" performance the officers were on the lookout for the parties wanted, but they were not there. Mr. Withrow was still in Decatur to-day, hoping to hear tidings of the runaway couple. He is not sentimental. He is practical, and some people would declare decidedly mercenary. He wants his $800.

ROUND THE WOMAN.

This forenoon Officer Leech, who was on the watch for anybody answering the description of Mrs. Withrow or Wickard, noticed a woman going north on Main street. He thought she looked very like Mrs. Withrow. He followed her, and the more he looked at her the more he was convinced that he had run across the right party. The officer kept Mrs. W. in sight until she reached the Union depot, and then he placed her under arrest. She protested that she had done nothing wrong, but the officer said she would have to come along with him. She did so without making a scene, and was taken to police headquarters, where it was proven beyond doubt that the suspect was Mrs. Withrow. At headquarters she was confined by her husband and Michael Mason. The greeting between husband and wife was not of a cordial nature. They were ready to talk, and the Marshal sent them into the council room where they held a conference lasting over an hour. Subsequently Mr. and Mrs. Withrow appeared, both good friends again. The husband told the Marshal that he withdrew the charge of larceny against his wife, but that he wanted Wickard arrested on sight and prosecuted. Withrow did not recover his stolen money. It is in the possession of Wickard and he cannot be found. It is believed that Wickard is at Danville, 12-1030 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Withrow left police headquarters accompanied by a mutual friend. They will return to Springfield.

A JOKE ON BILLY BRINTON.

How an I. D. & W. Conductor Had Fun With the Democratic Statesman.

Our genial friend, Hon. W. B. Brinton, of Tusculum, is well known to the boys in Decatur, and in fact throughout the state. He enjoys the distinction of being the treasurer of the Democratic state central committee, and as such was made defendant in the suit brought by Farmer Wilson, for the recovery of some money, said to have been advanced by him to the Democratic committee in the Palmer contest. Of course Wilson wanted his money, but he wanted the nomination for governor worse, and putting these facts together, our friend Brinton laughed Ed. Wilson out of ball of it, which was entirely correct, and shows Mr. Brinton to be a man of affairs and up to business. In short, Brinton is a live fellow, which both Republicans and Democrats concede. No one acquainted with him suspects that he would be an easy subject for parody to tackle. But in these days, when so many great men are suddenly passing away, Brinton, and many of us, may be pardoned for becoming, on the least pretension of organic trouble, a little alarmed.

Brinton is a man whose business keeps him on the road much of the time, and he has to take his chances on being caught in wrecks and kindred dangers that are peculiar to railroad travel. In view of these facts, there are two things he cherishes with religious diligence, namely, he never travels "in cog," and always forms an intimate acquaintance with the conductor.

He traveled with one of these conductors, with whom he is familiar, a few nights ago, to wit, Conductor Bennett of the I. D. & W. Brinton boarded the train at Decatur and being somewhat fatigued, after passing the usual civilities with the conductor, and surrendering a strip of mules, as an assurance to the company that he was still on the road, he deposited his overcoat in the aisle, reclined in a chair, refilled for a few moments upon the uncertainties of political life, and how he might have been a full fledged state officer now had he not yielded to Andy Hunter's interests; and then went to sleep and dreamed of Democratic victories.

Conductor Bennett, making his rounds, saw the innocent sleeper and the overcoat. A thought was generated in his brain which caused a fiendish smile to appear on his countenance. He quickly retired, but soon returned with nails and hammer and villainously and feloniously proceeded to nail the Brinton goosies to the floor of the car. When the train started Brinton was awakened. The conductor and several congenial passengers who had been let into the crime awaited results. Brinton hastily put on his overcoat and stepping into the aisle slipped his feet into the overcoat, but when he attempted to walk he was powerless to either raise his feet from the floor or to move them. He made several efforts to move, and finally became horrified with the thought that perhaps the penalty which follows great men had overtaken him and he exclaimed: "My God! gentlemen, I believe I am paralyzed in both legs." At the same time he felt of his legs trying to see if they responded to the touch or not. The conductors, no longer able to suppress their emotion, broke out in round after round of laughter, and the conductor procured a hand-bar and pried the victim loose, thus satisfying him that he was in good health. Being released, Brinton bade the gentlemen good night, left the car, and by the aid of the nails in his shoes, which became useful as ice-creeper, he reached home in safety; but if anyone supposes that Brinton will never pay the debt he owes that gang, that person does not know Brinton.
